

Call for Papers and Workshops: 2026 Annual Meeting and Conference

January 21, 2026

Philosophy of Science Society, Japan

The 2026 Annual Meeting and Conference of the Philosophy of Science Society, Japan will be held on Saturday, June 13, and Sunday, June 14, 2026, at Kyorin University (Inokashira Campus). We are pleased to invite applications for presentations and workshops according to the following guidelines.

Event Details

- Dates: Saturday, June 13 – Sunday, June 14, 2026
 - Venue: Kyorin University (Inokashira Campus, Mitaka, Tokyo)
 - Symposium: TBA
 - Special Lecture: TBA
-

Application Procedures

1. Registration website

Please enter the required information for your presentation or workshop via the following registration website: <https://www.sasappa.co.jp/phsc2026n/regi/index1.php>

2. Deadlines (Common to both Presentations and Workshops)

- Application Deadline: March 2, 2026 (Monday)
- Abstract Submission Deadline: May 10, 2026 (Sunday)

3. Important Notes

- Non-members may apply if they apply for membership starting from the 2026 fiscal year at the same time as their presentation application.
- Registration is only complete once you receive a confirmation email.
- Details can be modified on the site until the deadline, but no changes to titles can be made after the registration period ends.
- Acceptance is determined by the Board of Directors, with results expected by the end of March. Please keep your confirmation email until you receive the results. Withdrawals are generally not permitted after acceptance.
- Presentation Time: 30 minutes (may be shortened if there are many applicants). Specific time slots cannot be requested.
- Workshop Time: 2 to 2.5 hours. If you have a preferred time slot, please indicate it at the time of application.

Contact: kisoron@sasappa.co.jp